

“Next Generation” Discussion Club

Have you ever been a member of a book club? Or, perhaps you like discussing the issues of the day over a meal or coffee? Well, this is for you. Along with your spouse, find two or three other couples talk about what you have learned about the estate planning process and discuss questions or situations of which you are aware. If you are having trouble getting started, discuss the scenarios provided at: www.nextgeneration.montana.edu/nextgenerationmaterials.html. Remember, make it fun! Plan a potluck, dessert or other event to go along with the meetings. Have someone take notes so that good ideas can be remembered.
Have fun!
